Testing and assessment are crucial to teaching activities. This step helps learners self-evaluate their awareness as well as understanding and thus, teachers can adjust contents and teaching methods to suit learners’ needs. To improve teaching quality, it is necessary to set criteria for testing and assessment. To achieve objective assessment, proper organizing activities are required such as applying various testing and assessing methods simultaneously or testing different criteria.